Paying for college

Alex Rivera

Saved on October 12, 2026

A downloaded copy of your saved notes. Unsaved edits are not included.

Paying for college

From our conversations

Collected from your conversations. You can edit these in your binder.

- Grants and scholarships usually do not need to be repaid. Loans are borrowed money.
- Include books, transportation, and living costs when comparing colleges.

My notes

- Compare what we actually pay after grants, not just the tuition price.

Questions to ask

- Can the financial aid office explain what is covered and what we still need to pay?

Conversation points are recaps, not confirmed decisions. Translated notes are marked. Confirm requirements and dates with the college.